

Our Contributors

Graham Murphy was a Unitarian minister for twenty years and, up until his retirement, a leader of worship for congregations in Merseyside whilst his profession was that of a full-time gardener.

William Radice is a poet, and a scholar and translator of Bengali. Best known for his translations for Penguin of the poems and stories of Rabindranath Tagore, he has also published ten books of his own poems. He taught Bengali language and literature at SOAS, University of London, from 1988 to 2011. His most recent publication is a new translation for Penguin India of Tagore's most famous book, Gitanjali.

Alan Ruston was editor of the Transactions of the Unitarian Historical Society for 25 years, and the last Chairman of Council of Manchester College Oxford before it became a full College of the University in 1996. He is currently Chairman of the British and Foreign Unitarian Association.

George Kimmich Beach is a retired Unitarian Universalist minister. He is widely recognized as a leading interpreter of the works of the social ethicist and theologian James Luther Adams (1901-1994). His publications include Transforming Liberalism: The Theology of James Luther Adams (Skinner House Books, 2004).

Bill Darlison is the President of the General Assembly of Unitarian and Free Christian Churches for 2013 – 2014. He is Minister Emeritus of Dublin Unitarian Church.

Brendan Burke is a member of Cork Unitarian Church. He holds the degree of MA (Phil) from the Open University.

Jim Corrigall is Unitarian minister to Ipswich and Framlingham in Suffolk, England.

David Williams is Emeritus Perren Professor of Astronomy at University College London, and a former President of the Royal Astronomical Society.

Lena Cockroft is Non-Subscribing Presbyterian minister to the congregations of Glenarm, Cairncastle and Ballymoney, co. Antrim, Northern Ireland.

Tony McNeile is a retired Unitarian minister and co-editor of 'The File', produced by the Unitarian Earth Spirit Network.

Peter B. Godfrey is a retired Unitarian minister and Editor Emeritus of Faith and Freedom.

